Universiti Malaysia Pahang (UMP) one of the local technical universities has many success stories to tell. It is one of the finest of all the technical universities, as it is the only one that was bestowed the 5-Star Rating by QS. Technical standard to research universities as it was the only one to receive the same as that of the research universities. In teaching, research, publication and community services that it has undertaken that be leader of its pack. Many continuous improvement and innovation to its curriculum to meet future challenges which reflects UMP's commitment.

In calculating a high education standard to produce a high quality and skill graduates (which part of the Mission of UMP) UMP has moved from the conventional point of reference to sought new experience from established Institutions. Further assist by a refined Strategic Plan that is value based, strategy focused and result driven. But the challenge in producing capable and competent graduates, it saw the need to instill good values among its stakeholders. Through the Industrial Management (FIM) through the financial assistance from Yayasan Pahang has established the Financial Integrity Centre (FGIC).

FGIC was established with the preamble of and the belief of doing business ethically. Henceforth, it is necessary to sustain ethical deposition and behavior among its stakeholders (staff, students and administrators) not only for survival is severely tested during times of crisis. This jives well with the aspiration of the new government. The 1MDB scandal was really a test to all Malaysians and it is in these defining moments that organizations will show the strength of its belief.

It is on the basis of this belief that UMP feels strongly as an academic institution that it should make its presence felt in the nation. So FGIC was established with the intention of cascading good values to the stakeholders through training. To further exert its role in the region and in the country at large, FGIC has established links with the Governance (FGIC) and more recently on the 6th of August it has signed an Memorandum of Understanding on Integrity (MUI). One of the by-product of these initiatives is the development of the Anti-Bribery Management System (ABMS) by the Minister's Department and gained enormous publicity through the main stream media.

Although the 5-Star Ranking through QS, MyRA, MyMoes and SETARA, the Financial Accountability Management System of Malaysia gives a competitive edge to its branding, UMP feels strongly that the governance and integrity of its graduates is a must but UMP would fail if they become dishonest entrepreneurs.

Therefore, educating them with good virtues and values is a must so that they would not act dishonestly or engage in exchange for material and self-comfort of which is detrimental to the nation.
